

Q&A: What is TPN and how does it help my baby grow?

Sue Hall, MD, Neonatologist

TPN stands for total parenteral or IV nutrition. It's a solution that has glucose and protein, fats, minerals and vitamins. So it's a perfectly balanced solution that should be able to help the baby grow and thrive in spite of not being able to take any feedings into their stomach.