

Cells

It's time for "What's That Mean?" Today....

Remember how we talked about the human body being made up of these little, itty, bitty things called "cells"?

Almost, everything in our bodies is made up of cells.

As long as they all act like they're supposed to, everything is fine.

Clapping