

Leukemias

It's time for "What's That Mean?" Today....

Sometimes, cells go kind of haywire.

They get to doing things that they shouldn't.

Sometimes, cells get growing more than they should.

Sometimes, they start to split, or divide in ways they shouldn't.

Sometimes, they attack and hurt other healthy cells.

When they attack certain cells in your blood, they're called "leukemias."

Clapping