

What's That Mean? - Wheezing

With certain lung conditions, such as asthma or bronchiolitis, you will often hear a whistling noise, called “wheezing,” when the child is exhaling - that is, when they are breathing out.