

Sweets and Diabetes

A common question for people with diabetes is “Can I still eat sweets?” The answer is YES.

Just be sure to account for the carbohydrate in your meal plan and adjust your medicines, if you take them.

Remember, sweets aren’t a healthy option for anyone. So limit them to special occasions and choose small portions.