

Sleep and Heart Health

Getting better sleep can boost your energy and lift your mood. It can also help keep your heart healthy!

Wondering how? Not sleeping well has been linked to high blood pressure and high cholesterol. These conditions can raise your risk for heart disease.

But healthy habits, like being active and lowering stress, can benefit both your heart and your sleep.