

Heart Attack Symptoms in Women

Nausea. Dizziness. Shortness of breath. Did you know these could be signs of a heart attack?

Fatigue. Pain in your jaw, neck, stomach, or back. These, too, could be signs of a heart attack. Especially in women.

In fact, women tend to have more than just chest pain when having a heart attack, and may not have chest pain at all.

So pay attention to how you feel. Call 911 if you have chest pain or these more subtle symptoms of a heart attack.
