

RSV Vaccine for Adults 60 and Older

This year, give your immune system a boost against RSV—respiratory syncytial virus.

In some older adults, RSV can cause severe illness, like pneumonia.

Protect yourself with the RSV vaccine.

If you are age 60 or older, ask your healthcare provider if the vaccine is right for you.

And next time you see RSV, think...Ready. Set. Vaccinate.