

Advice: John, Diagnosed with Hypertrophic Obstructive Cardiomyopathy (HOCM)

You know you're diagnosed with an issue and so you need to have it taken care of.

Ignoring it is not an option.

You want to make sure that everything gets taken care of.

And so if you have a problem, call the doctor, call the nurse.

Talk to one of the aides down there and get your questions answered.