

Definition: Spider Veins

Spider veins are small blood vessels that can be seen through the skin.

They can look like lines that branch out like a web. They can be different colors such as red, blue, or purple.

Spider veins do not usually cause symptoms and generally are not a serious health problem.

Want to know more about spider veins and possible treatments?

Talk with your care team. They are here to help.